

ViaSat Data Allowance Policy – Exede Satellite Broadband Plans

Our goal is to give each of our customers the fastest service at the lowest price. To ensure that all ViaSat customers have equitable access to the network and that heavy usage by a small number of customers does not negatively impact the network performance for all customers, the ViaSat service utilizes a data allowance Policy (the “Policy”). This policy explains what happens when you use the maximum amount of data included in your plan. ViaSat Internet access is not guaranteed and is subject to this Policy.

We have several Exede Broadband plans available, each of which has a different monthly data allowance. We measure your data usage on a monthly basis and reset it to zero on the same day each month. Starting on the first day of your monthly measurement period, all uploaded and downloaded data transmitted using your ViaSat account counts toward your data allowance. You can view your data usage compared with your monthly data allowance at www.wildblue.com/customers/account-management.

If your data usage reaches 100% or more of your monthly data allowance, we will alert you of this fact. If at any time your data usage exceeds the data allowance, ViaSat may severely slow, restrict, and/or suspend your service, or certain uses of your service, until the end of your monthly measurement period. ViaSat may offer you the option of purchasing additional increments of data to use during the remainder of your measurement period. At the end of each monthly measurement period, your data usage resets to zero. Any unused data or additional purchased increments of data do not carry over to the next month.

The table below shows the data allowance for each data plan.

Broadband Plans

	Plan 1	Plan 2	Plan 3
Data Allowance (GB) ^{1,2}	10	15	25

¹ The data allowance is the volume of data that can be uploaded and downloaded during your measurement period.

² If you are a Recovery Act Program subscriber, your data allowance shall be as stated in the Recovery Act Addendum to your Customer Agreement.
